U.K. Tories Launch Big Attack On Prices And Wages Freeze

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservatives, supported by big business, today launched an attack on the wide powers the Labor government is seeking to impose a standstill on price and wage increases. Parliamentary approval still seems certain.

The attack headed for a climax tonight when Conservative Leader Edward Heath forced a vote to bring the freeze bill out of a parliamentary committee and debate all its details in the House of Commons.

Some left-wing Labor MPs have warned they will abstain in the vote to display their disapproval of the freeze and underline their contention that the big package of tax boosts and budget cuts already unwrapped should be sufficient to protect the pound sterling.

Reginald Maudling, former Conservative chancellor of the exchequer, told reporters today that a compulsory freeze would not work.

"It will deter voluntary cooperation," Maudling said. "If you ask a bloke to volunteer, he may. If you say 'volunteer or else' he will say 'to hell with you.'"

In the Commons committee which has been debating the bill day and night this week, Conservative MP Norman St. John-Stevens said the bill gives the government's prices and wages board so many legal weapons to enforce the freeze that they will constitute "a material infringement on the liberty of the subject."

St. John-Stevens said Economics Minister George Brown was being given "Hitlerian" powers to impose a standstill and he could become "a potential Mussolini—a lesser dictator but a dictator nevertheless."

The legislation now before Parliament is to be backdated to July 20, when Prime Minister Wilson announced his austerity program. All raises not actually in workers' pockets by that time are to be stopped.

John Howard Society Rapped By Magistrate In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Magistrate Cyril White Tuesday accused the John Howard Society of submitting biased and useless advice to the courts.

He said he paid no heed whatsoever to letters carrying the society's recommendations.

"Letters from them always say the same thing," the magistrate fumed — "don't send them to jail, put them on probation."

He said the society, which works with convicts and ex-convicts with the aim of helping them to avoid further offences, showed complete disregard for the Criminal Code, which permits probation for first offenders or for second offenders in special cases.

Magistrate White's outburst came over a letter from the John Howard Society recommending probation for Rene McGinn, 43, who pleaded guilty to possession of narcotics. Her record includes 10 convictions since 1953 for prostitution and drug offences.

She was remanded for sentence to Nov. 8.

"We'll see how she does," the magistrate said.

Executive director Mervyn Davis of the John Howard Society offered no defence when told of the magistrate's statements.

"I think there probably is some basis for criticism," he said.

He suggested, however, that Magistrate White had levelled a "broad and unkind" criticism.

Texas Ponders Homicide Spree

AUSTIN (AP) — Governor John B. Connally called a meeting with Texas law enforcement officials today to discuss the Charles Whitman homicide rampage Monday which left 16 persons dead and 31 wounded.

Meanwhile, arrangements were made to fly the bodies of Whitman and his mother, the first person killed in the mass slayings, to their home town of Lake Worth, Fla., for burial Friday.

Having cut short a Latin-American tour because of the tragedy, Connally arrived in the state capital Tuesday night from Rio de Janeiro.

The governor, who narrowly escaped death by gunfire when he was wounded in the Dallas assassination of President John F. Kennedy, said he called the talks "in hopes of preventing a recurrence" of such shootings in Texas in the future.

In Washington, sponsors of gun control legislation, under prodding from President Johnson, moved towards steering a bill to the Senate.

HAD TUMOR

The possibility that brain disease caused the 25-year-old Whitman to go berserk was raised Tuesday when a surgeon who performed an autopsy reported the former marine had a tumor which might have caused intense pain.

A University of Texas psychiatrist, Dr. Maurice Dean Healy, disclosed that during an interview last March 29 Whitman said he thought about going up in the campus tower "with a deer rifle and shooting people."

Most of the victims in Whitman's outburst were felled by rifle shots from the tower's 27th-floor level.

Dr. Healy said Whitman, whom he described as "self-centred and egocentric," failed to keep an appointment for a further interview the following week.

JOHN CONNALLY ... must act

Dr. Healy, however, said that in the March interview Whitman told of having "overwhelming periods of hostility with a very minimum of provocation" and admitted that he had twice beaten his wife—one of his victims.

U.K. Lung Cancer Takes Bigger Toll

LONDON (AP) — Deaths from lung cancer in Britain have increased by 1,000 a year since 1960, Health Minister Kenneth Robinson told Parliament Tuesday.

"The most important single known cause is cigarette smoking," Robinson said. He reported the total for 1965 was 29,377.

Construction Showdown Day In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — This is showdown day in the British Columbia construction industry, with the first firms scheduled to go ahead with a lockout of members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (CLC).

The 48-hour lockout notice served Monday by 150 major companies on 3,000 union members goes into effect at 4:30 p.m. today.

Roland K. Gervin, spokesman for the industry, said 178 smaller contractors also plan to serve lockout notices. He said that by the weekend there will be a "total shutdown of the construction industry" in British Columbia.

Mr. Gervin said contractors served lockout notice because of the number of construction projects at which the carpenters were going on strike.

The carpenters are seeking a reduction in the work week from 40 hours to 37½ with no reduction in take-home pay. They want a 40-cent hourly increase in two years on a base rate of $3.49.

Big Booster For Britain

LONDON (CP) — Britain's ailing economy got another big boost Tuesday with the announcement by a leading United States corporation that it will proceed immediately with a $90,000,000 oil refinery in England.

This decision by Continental Oil Co.—described by a major British industrialist as one of "immense courage"—came a day after Canada's Home Oil Co. confirmed discovery of a huge natural gas deposit on the Yorkshire Moors. This could lead to a Canadian investment of up to $200,000,000.

William F. Brown of Arkansas, who heads the powerful Continental Oil Co., told a reporter he had been lucky. But he wished he had been as lucky as Home Oil's Robert A. Brown of Calgary in finding gas.

Continental's oil refinery, to be completed by late 1968 on the lower banks of the Humber at Immingham, just across the river from Hull on Britain's east coast, will refine about 4,500,000 tons of oil a year. It will use some Middle East crude but mostly oil brought by company tankers from huge reserves in Libya.

P.Q. Strike May End

MONTREAL (CP) — Agreement was reached early today in Quebec's hospital strike between hospital administrators and union representatives, a spokesman for the National Federation of Services said.

The spokesman said the 32,500 striking non-medical workers will be asked to vote today on a new work contract. Results of the voting throughout the province were expected to be made available by 6 p.m.

HITS MILEAGE CHANGERS

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts has signed a bill setting a $100 fine for turning back an automobile speedometer to misrepresent the number of miles on the vehicle. Under the law evidence that an automobile dealer had readjusted a speedometer would constitute evidence of intent to misrepresent.

PEARSON'S VIEW

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson said today it is up to the provinces to decide whether they want federal money for medical care insurance plans.

"If the provinces don't want to participate, that is entirely up to the provinces," he told a press conference in the wake of criticism of the federal medical care offer at a Toronto conference of provincial premiers.

Railway Strike Spreads In East

TORONTO (CP) — Railway express and freight services between here and Montreal were halted today by the strike of an estimated 1,000 workers in Toronto and 1,800 in Montreal.

A Canadian Pacific Railway spokesman said about 700 employees of Canadian Pacific Express Co., its subsidiary, walked off the job today and overnight.

He said about 600 walked off in Montreal.

A Canadian National Railway spokesman said some 300 of its employees were out in Toronto and 1,200 in Montreal.

Earlier published reports said some 2,500 were out at Toronto.

SEEK WAGE INCREASE

The strikers, members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees (CLC), said they were "fed up" waiting for a conciliation board report on their 97-cents-an-hour wage increase demands in a new contract. The old contract expired in December.

The Brotherhood has disassociated itself from the strike. A union spokesman here said he had no idea how many men were on strike.

A Toronto CPR official said all CP express movement between here and Montreal is at a standstill.

A CNR spokesman said freight in carload lots would move out of Toronto but goods in smaller quantities would be held up because they are loaded by the express handlers.

Ottawa Spares Killer's Life

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal cabinet today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Roger Allan Fulton, 25, after hearing "important medical evidence of a neurological nature."

Fulton was convicted last Oct. 20 of gunning down Jan Kelerman, assistant manager of Commonwealth Trust Co. branch in Vancouver, during an armed robbery.

Fulton was to be hanged next Tuesday. He will serve a life sentence in the British Columbia penitentiary.

After being convicted of murder in the May 19, 1965, shooting, Fulton's appeals to the British Columbia Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court of Canada were dismissed.

There has been no one hanged for murder in Canada since December, 1962, when two killers were executed in Toronto.

Boy, 14, Held After Killing

NANAIMO (CP) — A 14-year-old boy was to appear in court here today in connection with the bludgeoning slaying of Mrs. Elaine Hartman, 84, of nearby Chase River.

He was arrested late Tuesday night, four days after the body of the elderly recluse was found in the kitchen of her home.

RCMP refused to release details on how police traced the suspect. The only clue police admitted having was a blood-stained length of stove-wood found near the victim's home.

The killer missed $7,240 in cash, cheques and coins that was tied around Mrs. Hartman's neck in a plastic bag. Police suggested the killer panicked after attacking the woman.

Exports Rise From Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's exports were 19 per cent higher in the first six months of 1966 than for the same period last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Shipments to the United States were 25 per cent higher, but they were down three per cent to the United Kingdom and 25 per cent to other Commonwealth countries.

January-June exports are an estimated $4,786,000,000, compared with $4,018,000,000 in the same period of 1965. The June total was $856,000,000, higher by 16 per cent than the corresponding month last year.

First-half exports to the U.S. totalled $2,952,000,000. To Britain they were $554,400,000.

A spokesman for the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC) said today in Ottawa the walkout is not expected to spread to other parts of the country.

"It's a futile action and the other locals are not supporting it," he said.

A CBRT local at Montreal triggered the wildcat by walking off at the CNR there. They were joined later by CBRT workers in Toronto and by members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (CLC) employed by the CPR in both cities.

Officers of both unions are trying to persuade the men involved to return to their jobs until legal strike action can be taken by railway unions later this month.

TURNED DOWN

Representatives from a CBRT local in Montreal came to Ottawa early today to seek support for the walkout. They were turned down by the Ottawa members of the Brotherhood of

Soviet Presidium Re-elected - No Surprises Forthcoming

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet parliament today re-elected Nikolai Podgorny as head of state and Leonid Brezhnev as Communist party leader. Podgorny, 63, has been Soviet president—chairman of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet—since he replaced Anastas Mikoyan in November.

Today's re-election by the Supreme Soviet (parliament) came as no surprise.

Brezhnev, who has no state post, still retains his leading position in the Soviet parliament.

The president and the Soviet government must by law be elected every four years following the election of a new Supreme Soviet.

Podgorny, once a protégé of former premier Nikita Khrushchev, is also a member of the Communist party's ruling 11-man politburo.

Earlier, the parliament approved 11 new committees as part of a plan by Kremlin leaders to involve the country's 1,517 deputies more closely in running the government.

The new parliamentary standing commissions were approved by the two equal chambers of the Supreme Soviet. The house met for a joint session later to elect the presidium and approve a new government as required by the constitution after general elections.

Prime Minister Alexei Kosygin was unanimously re-elected to his post Tuesday.

The new commissions formed today add to seven previous parliamentary groups. There are now nine in each house.

It was not immediately clear how much power the committees would have to influence the government.

The Soviet news agency Tass said they would discuss and analyse in advance questions submitted to the Supreme Soviet and make proposals on them. It said they would also check the activity of executive agencies.

Observers said there was no likelihood that the grip of the Communist party leadership would be relaxed. But the extra commissions were likely to give deputies a greater insight into the workings of the Soviet government.

China 'Helping U.S. Imperialism'

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Kosygin today accused China of doing "great service to American imperialism by attacking the Soviet leadership."

Kosygin said Kremlin efforts in recent months to improve relations with the Soviet Union's giant Asian neighbor have proved fruitless.

Kosygin said the Chinese leaders and the Chinese press recently began even more violent attacks on the Soviet Union.

In these attacks China completely distorted the truth about the Soviet Union and its foreign policy, he added.

He said recent Chinese propaganda was turned more on the Kremlin than on imperialism, "thus doing a great service to American imperialism."

Kosygin said Russia would continue to try to improve relations with China.

An improvement in relations also would be in the interests of the Chinese people, he said.

Turning to Viet Nam, Kosygin assured the North Vietnamese of the Soviet Union's constant and unwavering support for "the repulsion of American aggression."

"The Soviet Union will do all in its power to help the Vietnamese people to drive the Americans off Vietnamese soil as soon as possible," he said.

Kosygin declared that Soviet-American relations were completely overshadowed by aggressiveness" now apparent in "thus doing a great service to Washington."

Psychiatrist Forecasts Further Mass Murders

A noted psychiatrist, Dr. Frederick Wertham, said Tuesday in Allentown, Pa., the mass killings committed by Charles Whitman, shooting from the University of Texas tower, may have been influenced by the recent slaying of eight nurses in Chicago, and may touch off still more mass murders. Wertham, consultant psychiatrist to Queens Hospital Centre in New York, said in a telephone interview at his farm home here that he had predicted publicly after the Chicago slayings other mass murders would follow.

A peace group at Monticello, N.Y., said Tuesday night it had received a telegram from Ho Chi Minh's office saying the North Vietnamese government would consider "when conditions permit" allowing American journalists to observe firsthand the results of United States bombing raids in that country.

Foreign Minister Thanet Kham of Thailand called today in Bangkok for a new Viet Nam peace conference "this time not in Geneva, but somewhere in Asia, where all the principals in the war in Viet Nam will be invited to thrash out the existing difficulties."

A coroner's jury Tuesday in Hull, Que., found a 15-year-old boy criminally negligent in the beating death of 18-month-old Cathy Dunnigan of nearby Lucerne.

REGINALD MAUDLING

Johnson-Booster Wins With Senate Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former governor G. Mennen Williams, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, stormed to victory Tuesday over Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh for Michigan's Democratic U.S. senatorial nomination.

In other U.S. primaries, state Senator Don Samuelson upset Idaho Governor Robert E. Smylie in his bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

Primaries are held in the United States to nominate party candidates for office.

Williams, 55, the heir to soap millions who served six terms as Michigan's governor, was endorsed by most of the state's powerful union leaders.

His November opponent will be Senator Robert Griffin, unopposed in the Republican primary.

Samuelson, who piled up steady pluralities in most of the state's 44 counties, was backed by the party's more conservative elements in his race against Smylie.

Democratic Senator Len B. Jordan had no opposition in the Idaho primary and will face former congressman Ralph Harding in the November election.

Pearson, 46, who will now make his first run for a full senate term, will face former congressman J. Floyd Breeding, who won an easy victory in the Kansas Democratic senatorial primary.

UN's African Members Seek Debate On South East Africa

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—After requiring all members to place their League of Nations mandates under UN trusteeship and thus, UN supervision. All nations have done this except South Africa.

Some sources expressed doubt that the assembly, convening Sept. 20, would agree to debate South-West Africa immediately since that would delay the usual general debate for which foreign ministers attend the opening days of the session.

Others said that the Africans theoretically could put together the majority necessary for such a decision. They have 36 of the 117 votes in the assembly and they can usually count on 25 more from the Asians and another 10 from the Communists.

The International Court of Justice threw out a complaint brought by Ethiopia and Liberia, ruling that they had no legal right to bring action against South Africa.

Ethiopia and Liberia asked the court to rule that South Africa had violated her League of Nations mandate over South-West Africa by practicing apartheid (race segregation) in the territory, and to order that she stop doing that. If such a decision has been made the Africans could have asked the security council for action to enforce it.

The African group at the UN has not decided what to propose, but some diplomats think the Africans could push through an amendment to the UN charter requiring all members to place their League of Nations mandates under UN trusteeship and thus, UN supervision. All nations have done this except South Africa.

Highway Toll To Rise In B.C.

VICTORIA (CP)—Ray Hadfield, motor vehicles superintendent, predicted Tuesday the 1966 highway toll in B.C. will reach 600 — an increase of 109 over 1965.

Mr. Hadfield said in an interview he bases his prediction on a current trend shown in figures available up to the end of June.

He said these figures show the fatality rate is increasing faster than the accident rate.

The toll to June 30 was 239 dead, a 21 per cent increase over the same period last year. At the same time, property damage jumped 18 per cent.

Accidents, meanwhile, increased only seven per cent.

Mr. Hadfield said about 13,000 drivers' licences have been revoked so far this year.

TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrial trading today to recover some of Tuesday's sharp losses on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The industrial index, which slid 1.31 Tuesday, was up 24 to 157.04.

However, the tempo of the market continued to drag as only 644,000 shares changed hands by 11 a.m. compared with 649,000 at the same time Tuesday.

Inco, which tumbled 3 1/2 Tuesday, was up 1/2 to 92 3/4. CPR gained 1/2 to 60. Distillers 3/4 to 31 and Alcan 1/4 to 33 3/4.

Denison paced base metals higher, rising 1/4 to 64 1/2. Roman Corp., whose chief asset is Denison shares, added 1/4 at 15 and Rio Algom 1/4 at 26 1/4.

Bank issues continued to lose ground with Nova Scotia off 1/4 to 67 1/2, Montreal, Royal and Toronto-Dominion 1/4 each to 56 1/2, 70 1/2 and 59 1/2 respectively.

United Keno, which jumped 1.75 Tuesday, dropped 45 cents to 8.35 in profit taking.

Base metals were up .30 to 97.67 and the TSF 20 to 150.04. Golds were off .36 to 185.67 and Western Oils .51 to 102.29.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT ENTERTAINED AT COAST

The new president of the Okanagan Regional College and his family were entertained by Dean S. N. F. Chant of University of British Columbia and Mrs. Chant on their arrival in Vancouver. Posing with Dean and Mrs. Chant left, are President Norman Walker and Mrs. Walker; Stephen, 14 and David, 12, standing; Timothy, 8 and Brian, 5, seated. New president arrived in Kelowna Monday to begin active planning for the proposed college facility.

CROP FORECAST

Some Fruit Totals Down From 1965

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. said Monday 223,931 crates of cherries were shipped to the fresh fruit market up to July 23. A crate weighs 20 and one-half pounds. In spite of weather problems this is "quite a substantial cherry crop" and a strong basic selling price was maintained throughout the season, BCTF said. Harvesting had not been completed when BCTF's August newsletter was released but an estimated 235,000 crates will be shipped to the fresh market this year. Cannery deliveries will probably total 85,000 crates and deliveries to Sun-Rype for processing will total 12,000 crates, the newsletter estimated.

LOWER ESTIMATE
BCTF estimates the total cherry crop at 332,000 crates this year compared with 592,911 in 1964 and 50,832 in 1965, the year of the killing frost.

Shipments to the fresh fruit market up to July 23 were: 136,776 crates to Western Canada; 53,863 crates to Eastern Canada; 32,792 crates to the U.S.; 450 crates to the United Kingdom and 50 crates to Sweden. At Sun-Rype Products Ltd. about 100 tons of sweet cherries were brined for later use in glace fruit. Pitting of the brined fruit will begin later this month. Sun-Rype is now receiving, pitting and processing cherries into cherry pie filling and frozen cherries. The tonnage this year is far short of total requirements and it again has been necessary to import supplies from Washington and Oregon, the newsletter said.

APRICOTS DOWN
The 1966 apricot crop is estimated at 831,697 vu-paks. The 1964 crop totalled 1,150,509 vu-paks. Up to July 29, shipments to the fresh fruit market exceeded 200,000 apricot vu-paks, including 12,000 packages shipped to Eastern Canada. Western Canadian markets have been "receptive" to the apricot crop. The entire estimated crop of Royals, Blenheim and Tiltons has been sold to cannery. At Sun-Rype, processing of apricot nectar started this week. The harvesting of Red Haven and Rochester peaches is now under way in the earliest areas. The estimated peach crop this year is 923,396 cell packs. The 1964 peach crop totalled 1,717,858 cell packs.

PEARS STEADY
BCTF estimates the 1966 pear crop at 821,362 standard boxes, compared with 869,070 boxes in 1964. Bartlett's are expected to account for 571,604 boxes of this year's crop compared with 654,298 boxes in 1964. The estimated Flemish crop this year is 31,432 boxes compared with 45,926 in 1964. BCTF estimates an Anjou crop of 218,326 boxes this year compared with 168,846 in 1964. This year's plum crop is estimated at 8,114 vu-paks compared with 15,812 in 1964. The prune crop should reach 531,130 vu-paks compared with 748,020 vu-paks in 1964. There should be 15,755 standard boxes of Transcendents this year compared with 24,937 boxes in 1964 and 19,465 boxes in 1965. An estimated 14,833 standard boxes of Hyslops are expected this year compared with 18,837 boxes in 1964 and 23,297 boxes in 1965. Based on the first shipment estimate, there should be 5,090,998 trays of apples shipped to the fresh market this year. In 1964 there were 5,335,423 tray shipments to the fresh market and 3,915,944 shipments to the fresh market in 1964. The labor supply and demand in Kelowna, Rutland, and Winfield is balanced, according to the National Employment Service farm labor bulletin. Apricot picking has started and there are some sour cherries being harvested. Thinning is almost completed.

APPLES' GOOD
A near bumper crop of almost all varieties of apples is expected in September. The McIntosh harvest should begin the first week in September, the NES said. There will likely be a heavy demand for pickers then. There is a good crop of early pears and a fair peach crop, the NES said. In Vernon and Osoyoos, the bean harvest should begin soon but there is an adequate supply of help in the area. Throughout the Okanagan, the labor supply and demand situation is balanced. Higher temperatures are providing better ripening conditions for apricot and peach crops and apricots are being harvested in volume in all areas, the NES said. In Keremeos and Osoyoos, the apricot harvest peak has passed in Osoyoos. Penitence and Summerland apricot picking is in volume now. The labor supply is balanced. Picking of early peaches has started in Oliver and Osoyoos. The peach harvest should be fully under way in 10 days in Keremeos, Penitence, and Summerland. Labor supply is adequate.

Banff Festival Ballet Group Visits Kelowna This Month

The Banff School Festival Ballet will give a one-night performance in the Kelowna Community Theatre Aug. 19 at 8:30 p.m. The program is being brought here through the Kelowna Rotary Club and the Banff School of Fine Arts. Four ballets will be danced to music that runs from baroque to modern jazz. Eva von Genssey, modern jazz instructor at the Banff school, and Richard Jones, Ottawa will be featured in Monday's Child, a modern jazz ballet. The ballet is in seven movements, following Monday's Child through a different mood and feeling. Miss von Genssey is a regular performer on French network television in Montreal. She is a leading ballerina with the Royal Winnipeg Ballet and with Les Grands Ballets Canadiens. Mr. Jones is a teacher and performer. He has studied jazz with Matt Maddox in New York and choreographed four musicals in Ottawa. Other works on the program include Samartini Suite, Marcu de Concert and By Jupiter. All three numbers were choreographed especially for the Banff Festival Ballet by James Clouser. Gweneth Lloyd and Betty Parrally of Kelowna will assist Mr. Clouser in directing the company.

ON THE CORNER...

Staff Sgt. J. W. Murdoch, section NCO in Kamloops, is in Kelowna this week making an RCMP detachment inspection. The press has finally managed to get one up on the provincial government cabinet. In an exhibition football game Monday, part of the Soereds 14th birthday celebration, the press defeated a cabinet team 5-4 in a short City Park game. The press spotted the cabinet 14 runs to mark the 14th anniversary, but they did not count in the final run tally. Premier Bennett is reported to have hit a home run.

It was a great night for humans and donkeys too. The occasion was Premier Bennett's giant fireworks display Monday. The donkeys came into it with a birthday of their own. A lady donkey belonging to Heinz Zdravk of Casa Loma has been having a delayed pregnancy. But when the fireworks started exploding, she decided this was the time and gave birth to daughter Name for the newborn donkey, WAC-Lane. Tourists seem to be more affluent these days. Large camper trailers often carry motorhomes for town transportation at their holiday destination but one U.S. visitor evidently intends to travel in style. He and his family were speeding along Highway 97 today with an expensive foreign sports car lashed to the bumper of his heavily-loaded vehicle. Kelowna's City Park is packed these days. With warm temperatures lasting well after sunset there is a steady stream of cars through the park after 8 p.m. During the day things are even more hectic, with parking at a premium by noon and much of the prime beach area taken soon after. With the Regatta fast approaching the situation won't soon ease.

Eddie Shack and Bobby Hull will both receive boxes of Okanagan fruit on their arrival in Kelowna Saturday at 9 a.m. Shack and Hull arrive by air from Calgary and many people are expected to join a motorcade to Kelowna from the airport. The mid-summer hockey game Saturday night is giving the Regatta a good boost in the southern part of the Valley. With the best ever line-up of National Hockey stars coming many Penitence people are forecasting the Peach Festival for a trip to Kelowna. With Regatta spirit building quickly it's certain many of them will return for the mid-summer water show.

Apple picking has started and there are some sour cherries being harvested. Thinning is almost completed. A near bumper crop of almost all varieties of apples is expected in September. The McIntosh harvest should begin the first week in September, the NES said. There will likely be a heavy demand for pickers then. Sun 'Cooks' City's Power

Tuesday's power failure in Kelowna can be blamed on the Okanagan sun. Officials at the West Kootenay Power and Light Company said today the mobile substation at Doyle Ave. and Ellis St. kicked out due to overheating. The power failure lasted about an hour. West Kootenay has relieved the substitution of some of its load and the power failure won't likely happen again, officials said.

KMP Stages Oliver Next

Oliver! the 20th century version of the Charles Dickens novel, was chosen Tuesday night as Kelowna Musical Productions' spring production. The musical will be presented at the Kelowna Community Theatre March 14 to 18. John Bennett, chairman of the production committee, will direct the production. Casting for the play is scheduled for next month. Five leads and supporting leads and about 14 boys between the ages of nine and 13 are included in the cast of the play. Oliver! adapted from Charles Dickens by the English playwright Lionel Bart, is set in 19th century London. Oliver! had a two-year run on the London stage and it also played on Broadway. It was successfully produced at the Vancouver Festival this year and was taken on tour to Seattle and Portland.

Sunny . . .

Kelowna's hot spell is apparently going to last longer. Sunny skies and light winds are predicted by the Okanagan weather forecaster. Expected low tonight and high Thursday at Penitence 57 and 90. The high in Kelowna Tuesday was 94 and the low was 58. A year ago on the same date the high was 93 and the low was 68.

Two Motorists Escape Injury

No injuries were reported from a two-car collision Tuesday at 5:45 p.m. at Pandosy St. and Lawrence Ave. RCMP said the drivers were Kurt Gunther Lauridsen, 34, of 810 Bay Ave. Damage was estimated at $250. Lawrence Corbett, 246 Lawrence Ave., told police someone took $23 from a wallet in his car while the car was parked on Lawrence Ave. The theft was reported at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

History Of Fruit Marketing Outlined By BCFGA President

The early problems and steady growth of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association was outlined to Rotarians Tuesday by BCFGA president, Allan Claridge. Mr. Claridge, guest speaker at the service club's luncheon, told of early failures in trying to organize a co-operative union among Valley growers. Petty jealousies and the failure to clearly understand the tremendous advantages to be gained from co-operatives, doomed all early efforts at unified marketing, he said. This is why the B.C. Fruit Exchange, founded in 1897 failed, as did the Fruit and Produce Exchange of B.C., founded in 1906. By 1908 the Okanagan Fruit Union came into being, Mr. Claridge said, but it too was doomed. In 1913 came the Okanagan Fruit Growers Union which went into voluntary liquidation when the Associated Growers of B.C. Ltd. came into being in 1923 with a sign-up of more than 80 per cent of growers. But 100 per cent control was still elusive. While the failures mounted, so did the determination of many to do something about it, Mr. Claridge said. The required grower support was finally obtained for a fruit board which ultimately was to name B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. as its sole sales agency, he said, but not before growers and their families literally camped on the tracks to prevent fruit moving out unfairly in the early 1930s. And now a revolution began in the orchards. Many of the original varieties of fruits no longer found favor on the market. Growers fought to remove unwanted varieties but were handicapped by crushing set-backs. Thousands of trees were killed in the winters of 1949-50 and 1955. Growers fought back, Mr. Claridge said, with improved equipment and methods of growing. Today orchards are being irrigated by sprinklers instead of the old ditch method. In the future overhead irrigation will likely come into extensive use. Spray application methods have been streamlined, drastically reducing the labor required. The containers used for apple harvest today are chiefly bulk bins, again a tremendous saving in labor. The future is promising, Mr. Claridge said. We are aiming for greater production per acre, he said, and hoping for an acceptable crop insurance scheme. We will spare no effort to keep the name of the Okanagan in the highest eminence, Mr. Claridge said.

Drinks Prove Expensive For Three Area People

Three people appeared before Magistrate D. M. White today for various charges concerning liquor. All pleaded guilty. Michael Matthew Belle, Rutland, was fined $300 on an impaired driving charge and was prohibited from driving for three months. The prosecutor said he was arrested at 12:20 a.m. today when he failed to respond to a police signal to dim his lights. Before police stopped the car, it went through two red lights, the prosecutor said. The magistrate said driving and drinking is a serious problem and he can only do all in his power to stop it. Edward Kello, Westbank, was fined $50 on each of three charges, being intoxicated in a public place, an interdict in a licensed premises and an interdict in possession of liquor. The prosecutor said Kello was arrested at 1 p.m. Tuesday following a telephone complaint. The magistrate said the accused had been before him 34 times. "Every time you take a drink you come before me. Have you not a more useful purpose for your money?" the magistrate said. "I never buy my drinks," Kello said. "I don't know where I get the money."

Fire Destroys Roof Of House

Fire destroyed the roof of a house on Gallagher Rd. at 7:05 p.m. Tuesday. The Rutland Fire Chief, J. N. Would, said today faulty wiring may have caused the blaze. The house was occupied by the Joe Hush family. No injuries were reported. A total of 15 firemen fought the fire for about 40 minutes. Most of the contents of the house were removed but some water damage resulted to the interior, the fire chief said. No estimate of the damage was available but police said it may be up to 50 per cent of the total house value.

Vocational Classes End

Four Kelowna students are among 33 graduates of pre-apprenticeship classes held at the British Columbia Vocational School at Kelowna. Bruce Johnson completed four months of study in the pre-apprenticeship automotive classes. Also graduating from the automotive class was James Jasper of Winfield. Bob Stein of Kelowna was one of 11 students graduating from the carpentry class. Ernie Casorso and Barry Podwin, both of Kelowna, completed four months of training to earn their graduation papers in pre-apprentice auto body. Others graduating in auto body included Robert Duggan of Vernon and Grant Howse of Rutland. All graduates completed four months of study from April 4 to July 29. Their training is designed to prepare them to go into industry and serve a four-year apprenticeship, during which time they return to school one month each year for upgrading.

July Figure Increases Reflects Healthy Economy

Kelowna and district is experiencing a building boom according to reports of building permit values for July. The value of building permits issued in Community Planning Area number one (Winfield to Westbank) reached an all-time high in July of $466,142. In the City of Kelowna permit values came close to the record set last July. This July permits totalled $434,595 compared with $442,017 in 1965. The combined total of rural and city building permits amounted to $900,737. BOTH AREAS UP The 62 building permits issued in July in the rural area for a total of $466,142 is up $224,332 from the same month last year. The July total brought the value of building permits issued in the rural area from Jan. 1 to $2,839,530 compared with $2,539,255 during the same period last year. The City of Kelowna total to the end of July this year is $3,080,836 up from last year's $2,930,858. Among the 58 building permits issued by the city was one for $70,000 for the Mennonite Brethren Church at 1423 Vineland St. There were eight permits issued for alterations to commercial buildings totalling $93,400. Also issued were 16 permits for new residences for a total value of $249,880. Alterations to 12 residences added $13,260 to permit values and accessories $780 (in three permits). Alterations to institutional buildings amounted to $2,500 (one permit) and to industrial buildings, $3,725 (two permits). There were three permits for new signs valued at $1,050 and 12 miscellaneous permits without value. Comparative figures for July show the third highest total was in 1964 when values totalled $343,867 and $333,513 in 1963. In the rural area 21 permits were issued for new homes for a total value of $254,132. One permit for an addition to a school was valued at $140,000. A permit for $37,000 was issued for a glue-lam manufacturing plant. Five additions to commercial buildings were valued at $12,200 and nine additions to dwellings $17,560. Ancillaries to nine residences added $5,250 to permit values. Sixteen permits for plumbing were issued.

Days May Be Sunny Now But Summer Has Been Bad

Kelowna recorded temperatures well below normal last month as one of the coldest summers on record continued to unwind. The average high in the city during July was 79.4 degrees, the first time in three years the average high was below 80 and the first time in at least five years the average high was that low. The average low was 53.4 degrees, the lowest in three years. The average temperature during the month was 66.4, also the lowest in at least three years. The average high in July last year was 84.5 and in July 1964, 80.3. The average low last year was 55.4, compared with 54.4 in July 1964. The average temperature in July 1965 was 69.95 and in July 1964, 67.35. The highest temperature recorded in July was 91, compared with a high of 96 in both July 1965 and 1964. The lowest temperature of the month was 49, recorded July 7, 11, 12, 21 and 27. The lowest temperature recorded in the same month last year was 46. The lowest in 1964 was 47. The high in the city reached 90 degrees only once in July compared with 11 days of 90-plus temperatures in July last year. The high reached 80 degrees 14 times last month, 70, 11 times, 60, four times and 50, once. In July 1965 the high reached 80 degrees 12 times and 70 degrees eight times. There were no days during which the high was in the 50s or 60s. Precipitation totalled 1.36 inches last month, more than twice the total recorded in July last year. The total precipitation a year ago was .67 inches. All weather observations were taken by C. F. Erridge at the climatological station on Bowes St. Reports were made to the meteorological branch, department of transport.

Button-Pushing Generation Important To Fruit Business

One of British Columbia's oldest industries is combining with one of the newest developments of the electronic age—a third generation electronic computer system. Eric W. Moore, general manager, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., announced Tuesday the installation of an IBM 360/20 computer at the company's Kelowna head office. He explained the system would help B.C.'s fruit industry to maintain and expand its current $30 million marketing operation spanning more than 40 world countries. This is yet another step in the metamorphic development of this industry from "roadside fruit farmer" to the highly sophisticated, completely integrated, "one-deck selling" marketing organization which is rated among world leaders in the tree fruit industry," said Mr. Moore. The system will enable the speeding up of the "time-cycle of sales analyses, thereby giving us foresight instead of hindsight, enabling us to make the instantaneous decisions so vital to today's complex marketing strategies." Mr. Moore said it is the aggressive, forward looking approach of B.C.'s tree fruit industry which has maintained its position as a vital factor in the Canadian economy and a "force to be reckoned with in world markets." The computer system will also service the processing arm of the industry, Sunrype Products Ltd., and it is anticipated the facilities will eventually be offered to other industries in the area, wishing to avail themselves of the computer's specialized techniques. J. E. Brent, president of IBM Canada, has called the system "... one of the most advanced and yet most economical computers ever developed."

AP NEWS SPOTLIGHT IN FOCUS

A Peek at Wobbly Pound; Japanese Town Trembles

LONDON (AP)—At the height of this month's financial crisis, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer went off to dine with an Arab sheik.

It was no frivolous entertainment. The sheik was the ambassador of Kuwait, whose ruler has $300,000,000 ($300,000,000) of his oil profits on deposit in London. If he withdrew the money, the pound could have collapsed.

A century ago the pound sterling was the unchallenged ruler of the financial world, backed by American railroads and jute mills in India. The profits came home to make England rich.

Today its value has diminished. To defend their currency, the British—unlike their European competitors—have suffered years of postwar sacrifice. They still haven't won the battle.

The pound first fell in thrall to foreign bankers in 1931. Wall Street had crashed, taking the world's industry and much of its currency down with it.

Foreigners pulled money out of London and Britain needed cash. The price set by New York bankers for a loan was a 10-per-cent cut in unemployment benefits and Britain paid the price.

SHARE WORLD TASK

After the Second World War Britain and the U.S. assumed the role of bankers to the world. But the war had depleted British reserves and left the nation's industrial machine creaking with age and exertion.

The British accepted a wage freeze and boosted exports, even before falling U.S. prices in 1949 forced devaluation of the pound from around $4 to $2.80 ($3 Canadian).

European countries devalued (France twice) to keep export finance in balance, but in Britain the value of $2.80 to the pound became a sacred article of political faith. Devaluing again would have meant admitting defeat as a world banker.

The cost was enormous. British banks earned millions every year lending pounds to foreigners—money that could have stayed at home to modernize industry. Foreign profits masked trade deficits.

The sterling deposits of the Commonwealth, now totalling $2,400,000,000, stayed in London and helped finance overseas investment.

LOSES BUSINESS

But Britain began to get less and less Commonwealth business. Now non-sterling countries lend the Commonwealth three times as much capital as London does.

As a trading currency, the pound had to be convertible. And like the depositors in any bank, the traders have pulled out their money whenever they believed the bank was overextended.

They did it in 1956, when they thought Britain didn't have the resources to fight the Suez war. (It didn't and was forced to withdraw from Suez after Washington refused a loan.) They did it again in 1961, when they thought the British economy was weak.

They did it in 1964, when the Conservatives piled on the largest trading deficit in history and their Labor successors were indeed unequal to the task of coping with it.

This did it this month, when confidence collapsed in Britain's ability to raise production without inflation.

filled with 500,000 earth tremors.

"The tremors will probably last another six months," predicts Minoru Takahana, director of the Matsushiro earthquake observatory, "but I don't think there will be stronger shocks than before."

Almost every wood and plaster house in this town of 22,600 has been damaged. Wooden props keep many standing. The quakes have brought death to one resident, injuries to several and insomnia to many. The tremors also have hurt business.

Initial Peak Of 2,000 Jolts

The quakes reached an initial peak Nov. 22 when seismographs registered more than 2,000 jolts. Three successive force 4 shocks nearly panicked the town.

The tremors then decreased for a time. Another peak came April 17. In a 24-hour period there were 6,780 jolts, including 661 strong enough for people to feel.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía leaped aboard a tiger June 28 as revolutionary president of Argentina and has ridden a Located 112 miles northwest of Tokyo, on a plateau covered with rice fields and apple orchards, this once was a favorite spa.

Most of the tremors have been slight, showing up only on seismographs. But the observatory has counted 3,540 shocks of force 2 (capable of causing a slight movement of doors) on the Japanese scale of 7. There have been 333 of force 3 (makes windows rattle); 36 of force 4 (enough to shake houses) and seven of force 5 (violent enough to crack concrete walls).

least 10 years solving them. First of all there's a trotting inflation. He'll have to battle both labor and business if he puts a limit on wages and prices.

FACES BIG DEFICIT

Onganía has to solve the tremendous national budget deficit. To do this, he must revise the inefficient government-owned railroads and other state monopolies.

He has, too, to refinance Argentina's $2,000,000,000 public debt of which $380,000,000 comes due this year and $279,000,000 next year.

He also must negotiate a loan to get his big housing, highway and security setups under way. And last but not least, Onganía must solve the political riddle presented by the followers of exiled former dictator Juan D. Peron. He has banned political parties as a first step.

Jail Workshop For Counterfeiters

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP)—A plate used to make counterfeit $50 bills was seized Tuesday at the state penitentiary prison shop. Authorities arrested the print shop supervisor who they said was carrying $2,550 in bogus money.

West Germans Enjoy Short Work Week

BON (Reuters)—West Germany's industrial workers enjoy the shortest work week in Europe, the labor ministry said Tuesday. Last year, the workers averaged 44.1 hours a week.

AROUND B.C. IN BRIEF

Pop-Art Vandal Brigade On Spree In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—A brush brigade of pop-art vandals went on a painting spree Tuesday, smearing paint on houses, cars, mail boxes, walls and stop signs. The vandals painted slogans, numbers, stripes and obscenities. Police said the total damage would take a considerable time to estimate.

CHIEF QUILTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Kenneth E. Patrick, commissioner of the Greater Vancouver water and sewerage districts resigned Tuesday to join a city engineering firm. Patrick, 53, was commissioner of the two integrated organizations for three years.

BOY DROWNS

QUALICUM BEACH (CP)—Mark Hawthornethwaite, 5, drowned Tuesday while swimming in a private pool. Coroner Russ Inkster of Nanaimo said the boy's body was found at the bottom of the pool. He said an investigation is to be held into the death.

TO STAND TRIAL

LILLOOET (CP)—Velma Adolph, 21, was committed Tuesday to stand trial for the axe slaying last May of her infant son, but the charge was reduced from capital to non-capital murder. She was arrested near Ashcroft after the death of the child.

whose body was found buried under rocks by the Fraser river.

OPIUM SEIZED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police on skid road Tuesday seized two forms of opium valued at more than $2,000 on the illicit drug market. The seizure came after a citizen reported a man was telling residents of the area he had narcotics. The opium was in pure form and in ampules of injectible opium.

ABORTIONIST JAILED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Frank Gauchi, 38, was sentenced Tuesday to five years in prison for attempting to procure an abortion. The prosecutor said Gauchi was arrested in a raid on an apartment by police who seized a number of surgical instruments.

BOGUS BILL SHOWS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The second counterfeit $20 bill in a week turned up at a branch of the Imperial Bank of Commerce Tuesday, part of a jewellery store account. The first bogus bill turned up at the same bank Friday. Police said the bill was passed last weekend and said both bills belong to a collection well known in eastern Canada.

Gun-Control Sponsors Move In Aftermath To Massacre

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sponsors moved cautiously today in an effort to steer gun control legislation toward Senate action in the aftermath of the Texas massacre that left 16 dead and 31 wounded.

Despite prodding by President Johnson for legislation "to help prevent the wrong persons from obtaining firearms," there appeared little likelihood of immediate action.

Senator Thomas H. Dodd (Dem. Conn.), author of a controversial gun control bill approved by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee, asked for a special meeting of the full Senate judiciary committee to pass on it.

Chairman James O. Eastland (Dem. Miss.), said he would call a meeting at "the earliest opportunity" but indicated that might not be until next week.

In any event, Dodd said he doesn't know whether the measure, designed to control the interstate shipment of firearms, can get full committee approval.

Concurring in this uncertainty, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said in a separate interview he thinks a compromise must be reached before the committee will approve the measure.

MORTON OPTIMISTIC If a bill comes out of the judiciary committee, it must go next to the Senate commerce committee. A member of this panel, Senator Thruston B. Morton (Rep. Ky.), said he believes some legislation can be worked out.

But Morton said the pending bill would not have prevented Charles J. Whitman from amassing the arsenal of weapons he used in his sniper attack from the University of Texas tower in Austin.

"I think it might be worthwhile to consider the idea of registering rifles, shotguns and pistols," he said. "If a citizen has to register his car, he could be required to register his guns."

As approved by the juvenile delinquency subcommittee, the bill would ban the mail order sale of pistols and revolvers and limit over-the-counter sales to persons 21 years or older who made purchases in their home states.

Rifles and shotguns could be sold directly to persons over 18. But for mail order purchases, buyers would have to supply age, residence and criminal record, if any, and comply with state gun regulation laws.

Sellers of rifles and shotguns by mail would have to submit this data to the police chief in the purchaser's home town. If the latter made no objection within seven days, the sale could be completed. Any felony record would bar a sale.

Opening lead - king of diamonds.
The problem of entries is critical in many deals and declarer must frequently exercise maximum care to maintain communication between his own hand and dummy.

Take this case where South is in five clubs. He wins the diamond lead with the ace and plays the king of clubs. West takes the club with the ace, and continues with the jack.

South is of course careful to ruff with the eight of trumps, not the four, because his only certain entry to dummy lies in clubs. He then cashes the queen of clubs and crosses to dummy by playing the four to the six.

Now that South is in dummy he must be extremely careful of what he does next. If he is to make the contract he must try to arrange successful finesses in both spades and hearts in the course of his visit to dummy.

Marichal, Mota Gang Up To Lift Giants To Top

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Juan Marichal and Manny Mota, whose last get-together gave San Francisco a big scare, have held a long-distance reunion... and given the Giants a big lift.

Pittsburgh's Mota, a former Giant outfielder who inadvertently put Marichal out of action a week ago, doubled home an eighth-inning run Tuesday night that gave the Pirates a 6-5 victory over Los Angeles Dodgers.

Marichal, meanwhile, made his first appearance for the Giants since Mota slammed a car door on his pitching hand and beat New York Mets 3-4 for his 17th victory, tying the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax for the major league lead.

The San Francisco victory and Los Angeles defeat sent the Giants back into first place in the tight National League race, one game ahead of the Dodgers and Pirates.

ENDS MET RALLY

Marichal came out of the bullpen in the eighth inning Tuesday night to choke off a Met rally and pick up the decision in his first relief venture of the year.

The Giants had gone through five pitchers when Marichal got the call.

Mota, whose .350 average leads the league but who has not batted enough to qualify, also was a late-inning hero, hitting a pinch hit in the sixth inning but came through with the deciding hit off reliever Ron Perranoski after a single, a sacrifice and a walk set the stage in the eighth.

... blasted again

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati Reds beat St. Louis Cardinals 6-3, Philadelphia Phillies edged Houston Astros 4-3 and Chicago Cubs topped Atlanta Braves 6-5 in 12 innings.

KNOCK OUT DRYSDALE

The Pirates spotted Los Angeles a 3-1 margin on homers by Lou Johnson and Jim Lefebvre, then knocked out Don Drysdale and moved ahead 5-4 on a two-run homer by Don Clendenon and Gene Alley's solo shot. The Dodgers tied it in the sixth on Johnson's single and a run scoring double by Tommy Davis.

Dressen's Fatherly Advice Produces Win For Tigers

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Charlie Dressen had some fatherly advice for Denny McLain—Stop throwing curves.

McLain took the advice and stayed out of trouble for the first time in three weeks, pitching a four-hitter Tuesday night as Detroit Tigers defeated Chicago White Sox 5-0.

McLain, 22, the Tigers' ace right-hander, hadn't won a game since the All-Star game July 12 when he hurled three perfect innings as the American League's starting pitcher.

Then McLain who was battered for 19 runs in 18 1/3 innings—that's an earned run average of 9.34—while dropping four straight games.

WINS 14TH GAME

En route to his 14th victory against eight defeats, McLain gave up just four singles and allowed only one runner to reach second base.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore trimmed Cleveland Indians 8-4, California Angels edged New York Yankees 6-5 in 11 innings, Minnesota Twins downed Boston Red Sox 7-3 and Kansas City Athletics nipped Washington Senators 4-3.

Orlando McFarlane, who caught McLain for the first time, supported his battery mate with a two-run homer in the fourth inning. Gates Brown homered for the Tigers in the eighth.

Paul Schaal lined a shot past Mickey Mantle in centre field in the 11th inning and raced around the bases for an inside-the-park home run, giving California its 28th victory in 39 one-run games.

Dave Johnson led the Baltimore attack, driving in four runs with a homer and sacrifice fly. The Orioles jumped on Sam McDowell for five runs in the third inning, but they needed Johnson's homer to snap a 5-5 tie in the seventh. Rocky Colavito homered for Cleveland.

Rico Petrocelli tied the game 3-3 for Boston in the eighth, but Jimmie Hall won it for Minnesota in the ninth with a two-out, grand-slam homer off Don McMahon. Don Demeter hit a two-run Red Sox homer while Tony Oliva drove in two Twins' runs with a single.

Bert Campaneris capped Kansas City's three-run rally in the sixth inning with a two-run, inside-the-park homer. Ed Charles tied the game 2-2 when he led off the inning with a triple and scored on Ed Brinkman's error. Ken McMullen knocked in two Washington runs with a single and a double.

11 Run Fifth Inning Gives Mounties Vital Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The second-place team in each division of the Pacific Coast League picked up a full game on the leader in baseball action Tuesday.

In the western division, Vancouver annihilated Oklahoma City 14-0 while first-place Seattle lost to Tacoma 4-2.

In the east, runnerup Tulsa outlasted Phoenix 3-2 and San Diego downed Indianapolis 7-3.

Other games saw a victory for Portland over Hawaii 8-2 and a 6-4 win for Denver against Spokane.

Vancouver scored 11 runs in the fifth inning of its game with Oklahoma City. A grand slam homer by Ray Webster—his second home run of the game—and a double by Rick Joseph were the key blows.

All 14 Vancouver runs scored off starter Rick Pierini's pitching. Pierini led the game in the sixth. Paul Seitz hurled a complete game for the Mounties, yielding six hits.

Ken Hunt homered and Bill Faul pitched a five-hitter for Tacoma at Seattle. Seattle went scoreless until the seventh, when Felix Torres doubled and Chuck Vinson homered.

Torres doubled again in the ninth, and again Vinson came to the plate. With two out, Vinson walked, and Mike White then struck out to end the game.

Tulsa scored single runs in the first, third and fifth innings at Phoenix. The Giants went scoreless until the eighth when they scored both their runs on a homer by Jack Hiatt.

Trailing Indianapolis 3-2 in the seventh, San Diego scored four runs with two out to wrap up its win.

Portland won against Hawaii in the second inning. Billy Williams slammed a bases-loaded homer to start a seven-run spree.

Denver fell behind 1-0 against Spokane but scored three in the second to take the lead. Shortstop Jim Jenkins homered for Denver in the third to score the two winning runs.

London Hates Fighting But Cash Makes Him Stay In Game

LONDON (AP) — The odd thing about Brian London, who fights Cassius Clay Saturday for the world heavyweight boxing title, is that he hates boxing.

London, 32, freely admits that he's in the game strictly for the cash.

In 11 years as a professional, he has earned $350,000 and lives comfortably near Blackpool. The Clay fight will fatten his bank balance by a minimum $112,000.

"Fighting is a lousy business, but the pay is good," he says. "London is shorter than Clay, but almost as heavy and is built like a tank. In 47 fights he has 35 victories."

He is confident he can beat Clay by adopting a Rocky Marciano style of infighting.

"I'm just going to get in there and have a thump."

"I seem to have better fights against people who are not punchers and it does not appear that Clay can punch."

"Someone is going to beat him one day and it might as well be me."

"My best bet will be to close in and fight in Marciano style, crowding my man all the way."

HE IS A BOXER'S SON

London was born into a boxing family. His father, Jack, formerly was British heavyweight champion.

But at school, Brian preferred football and cross-country running to boxing. When his father finally coaxed him into the ring, Brian's first thought was to get it over quickly and get out.

London made his pro debut in 1955 by stopping Dennis Lockton in the first round. In his next 10 fights, London chalked up nine wins inside the distance.

His string of victories ended, however, when he was stopped by European heavyweight champion Henry Cooper in the first round. In two later fights Cooper, stopped by Clay in the sixth round of their title fight here May 21, again beat London each time.

One of London's best wins was over former world lightweight champion Willie Parson in 1958. The fight was stopped in the fifth with Parson suffering a badly cut left eye.

"The same year London won the British and Empire heavyweight titles, knocking out Joe Erskine of Wales in the eighth round."

His string of victories ended, however, when he was stopped by European heavyweight champion Henry Cooper in the first round. In two later fights Cooper, stopped by Clay in the sixth round of their title fight here May 21, again beat London each time.

One of London's best wins was over former world lightweight champion Willie Parson in 1958. The fight was stopped in the fifth with Parson suffering a badly cut left eye.

"The same year London won the British and Empire heavyweight titles, knocking out Joe Erskine of Wales in the eighth round."

New Westminster Advances In BRL

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Portland and New Westminster scored victories here Tuesday in the Babe Ruth Regional Baseball Tournament.

Portland edged South Seattle, Wash., 3-0 and the Canadians slammed Idaho 12-2.

Both Portland and South Seattle collected three hits and committed two errors. Portland scored a single run in the second and added two in the seventh and final inning.

New Westminster gathered 10 hits and Idaho committed four errors. Idaho was behind 3-0 after the first inning and 6-1 after the second.

Blues Clobber Edmonton 26-7

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bud Grant is going to investigate Winnipeg Blue Bombers' inability to score a touchdown in the second half of a Western Football Conference game Tuesday night.

"I want to know the reason," the coach said following the Bombers' 26-7 conquest of the Edmonton Eskimos before 15,112 fans.

It wasn't needed, but Grant wanted the touchdown to pad a 23-0 lead.

The second-half stand and fleet halfback Jim Thomas salvaged some pride out of an otherwise inept Eskimo effort.

With seconds to go, Thomas ran 100 yards for a touchdown. Tommy-Joe Coffey kicked the convert.

TIED FOR FIRST

The Bombers pulled alongside Saskatchewan Roughriders in first place, crushing the rookie-burdened Eskimos with passes. The Riders did the same—five touchdown passes—in a WFC's top rookie in 1964, out-paced Eskimos' Art Johnson for a back-peddling catch of Ploen's 48-yard toss. Working from the Edmonton 10-yard line, Ploen found Nielsen with a scoring strike.

ter. Dave Raimy got one, Ken Nielsen the other.

Norm Rauhaus got the third, pouncing on a loose ball when Eskimo Garry Lefebvre fumbled a punt in the end zone.

Norm Winton's perfection on converts and his unsuccessful field-goal try single, Ed Ulmer's two punt singles and Bob Taylor's safety-tackle of Eskimo quarterback Bill Redell wrapped up Winnipeg scoring.

Ploen, who ceded his signal-calling chores to Dick Thornton in the final minutes, completed 16 of 26 passes for 246 yards.

RAIMEY GOES OVER

Leo Lewis caught Ploen's dump pass in the last minute of the first quarter and slipped 28 yards down the left side to the Edmonton 19-yard line. Within seconds, Raimy had twisted 12 yards for a touchdown.

In the 13th minute of the second quarter, Billy Cooper, the WFC's top rookie in 1964, out-paced Eskimos' Art Johnson for a back-peddling catch of Ploen's 48-yard toss. Working from the Edmonton 10-yard line, Ploen found Nielsen with a scoring strike.

Als-Riders Open EFL Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Most questions about the 1966 Eastern Football Conference should be at least partially answered before the week is out.

Two of the biggest questions—Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes—open the EFC season tonight in a game that should indicate whether the EFC race will be another two-team affair or perhaps a wide-open race.

The game will be televised in Eastern Canada on the CTV network, starting at 8 p.m.

After three consecutive years of second-place finishes and playoff losses to Hamilton Tiger-Cats, several observers feel it could be the Riders' year. They have a young team, as they had last year, but they also have a lot more experience.

It's a different story for the Alouettes. After a third straight third-place finish the Riders did a major rebuilding job, starting with the coaching staff and extending throughout the entire team.

Rookie coach Darrell Mudra still has quarterback Bernie Faloney and fullback J. W. Lockett for the power running, but from there the offence is barely recognizable.

The interior of the offensive line has a new look, but it's mostly a result of deals for established veterans rather than a crop of eager rookies. Veteran Chet Miska, formerly of Hamilton, is at centre, flanked by guards Kaye Vaughan and Tony Pajackowski.

Pajackowski, a former Western Football Conference all-star with Calgary Stampede, came to Montreal in an off-season trade, while Vaughan, a former EFC and Canadian Football League all-star, was purchased from Ottawa.

Saskatchewan Hockey Loop Plans May Be Thwarted Yet

REGINA (CP)—Decision was reserved Tuesday in Court of Queen's Bench on an application by Melville Millionaires for a temporary injunction to prevent the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League acting on plans to disband.

Mr. Justice F. W. Johnson reserved decision on a statement of claim filed by Melville, one of the league's seven clubs, July 28.

The claim seeks damages from league commissioner Frank Boucher of Regina and the other clubs.

It asks that a July 15 resolution to disband be ruled invalid and that league funds be turned over to a receiver by court order. It says league assets at April 30 were $51,010.

Melville is asking $250,000 general damages and $8,800 special damages because, the club says, it and Flin Flon Bombers of the same league received intimations June 24 they would not be admitted to the new Canadian Major Junior Hockey League which the others purported to form and were left without a league in which to play.

Named as defendants with Boucher are: R. N. (Scotty) Munro, Estevan; Del Wilson, Regina; George Agar, Saskatoon; Jack Shape, Weyburn; Brian Shaw, Moose Jaw, and Edward Dorohey of Brandon, Man.

Blizzard Plays Havoc In Chile

PORTILLO, Chile (AP) — A blizzard struck this site of the 1968 alpine world skiing championships Tuesday, dumping an average of a foot of snow on the tracks.

Training was cancelled and fear was expressed that the start of the event Saturday may have to be postponed.

The women's downhill opens the program with the men's downhill slated for Sunday.

Most of the teams welcomed the break as a chance to get some rest after hard preliminary training. However, a five-day heavy snowfall would complicate matters.

Stanislav Ziborzyński, technical delegate of the International Skiing Federation, said no decision on a schedule change would be made immediately.

"If it lasts only 24 hours there will be no problem," he said. "We will clear the slopes of snow by side slipping and then packing a little."

McGrandle Retains Canadian Title

EDMONTON (CP)—Billy McGrandle of Edmonton, scheduled to be married today, will march up the aisle with a sore nose and the Canadian featherweight boxing championship.

The 19-year-old youngster won a close, unanimous decision over Francis (Rocky) McDougall of Sydney, N.S., Tuesday to keep the title he won from McDougall about two months ago.

A solid body attack won the torrid 12-rounder for McGrandle, 124 1/2, McDougall, 125, moved smartly in the early rounds but faded in the middle stages before McGrandle's aggressiveness.

McDougall, a soft-spoken university student rallied in the last three rounds but fell one point short on the card of referee John Smith of Edmonton, who scored it 55-54. The two judges, also from Edmonton, scored it 56-54 and 59-55.

Is Okanagan Highway Becoming A Bottleneck

The Vernon News wonders if the Okanagan is becoming a traffic bottleneck. Most people at this time of year will sympathize with the northern paper.

This paper has pointed out on more than one occasion that the section of highway from Grindrod to Sicamous leaves much to be desired. It certainly is not up to standard and it does discourage visitors from leaving the Trans-Canada to come through the Okanagan.

Last spring, too, we had some hope that the highway south of Vernon was to be widened as it needs. Some rock work on corners was done, and appreciated, but when paving time came, there was little apparent improvement.

The Vernon News describes conditions on Highway 97 in these words:

Anyone who has travelled Highway 97 during the past few weeks must have experienced a certain sense of frustration, particularly if they were going anywhere in a hurry. For traffic patterns on the highway are anything but conducive to rapid transit during the hectic days of the summer rush.

Slow drivers and sightseers creep around the bends at 35 miles an hour, trailing frustrated motorists in their wake, who try to pass when they shouldn't. Trucks, campers, trailers and boats slow progress to a crawl, and fizzle the nerves of those who are driving with a purpose.

With its bends, hills and built-up areas, the highway is not particularly fast at the best of times. Add the extra-heavy summer traffic and the result is sometimes chaotic, even though the highway handles normal, off-season traffic reasonably well.

Clearly a through highway will have to be considered in the near future, if the Okanagan-Hope-to-Princeton route to the Coast is to continue to compete with the Trans-Canada Highway. Reports that the Trans-Canada Highway is taking twice as much traffic as the Okanagan route, if true, indicate that this area is losing ground.

The fact that many Okanagan people themselves travel to Vancouver by the Fraser Canyon reinforces the belief that the Okanagan-Princeton route is becoming noted for its slowness and congestion.

Costly Bilingualism

Canada pays a high price for being bilingual. The need to produce all documents and reports in the two official languages adds many millions of dollars a year to the cost of operating parliament and the government.

In addition, delays of weeks and months occur in the tabling of reports because of the task of translation and the printing of two versions of voluminous documents.

The government's translation service has been improving steadily in the past year or two, with the employment of more and better translators. But it is well known that some reports have been delayed for many weeks because the original translations were full of errors, requiring the work to be done a second time.

While the government has always been conscious of bilingual requirements, it was not until arrival in Ottawa of Real Caouette and Gilles Grogere that the matter came to a head. The fiery Creditiste leaders blocked business time and again with demands that reports not be considered nor bills introduced until copies were available in both languages.

In the past, it had been the practice to introduce material in English, with French versions being produced some time later. But the Creditistes blocked action until the two versions were printed and tabled at the same time.

But it is not only the Caouette-Grogere forces which demand this treatment. Recently, in the Commons' committee on Standing Orders, Hull Liberal Alexis Caron raised a full scale rumpus because a petition from the Canadian Pacific Railway, concerning a branch line in Alberta, was presented in English only.

"I am not blocking the business. I just asked to have a French copy," Mr. Caron declared. "We have the right to have it, indeed since Confederation. These companies always have good excuses. They always say they were in too much of a hurry, especially the CPR which has the best lawyers in Canada."

Harold Winch of the New Democrats and Gordon Churchill of the Conservatives accused Mr. Caron of being unreasonable.

"The CPR wants to build a 16 1/2 mile line in Alberta. This is all it is. No wonder the Liberal party has no representation from Alberta. Here is a blocking move to prevent us getting development in Western Canada," Mr. Churchill charged.

The Hull MP retorted that the French always had trouble getting acceptance of their language, even in Quebec. He said English Canadians in Mount Royal and Westmount in Montreal had never bothered to learn French and the same was true of many in Quebec City.

"It is because they do not give a darn for French. I think it is time this should stop. It has been like this since 1759. That is why I am protesting today," Mr. Caron explained, speaking in fluent English.

After a half hour wrangle, the committee agreed to proceed on the understanding the CPR would furnish a French translation of its material as quickly as possible.

All In One Package

Most Canadians appear to be in favor of welfare and of more and better education. The question is have we fully considered how these are to be financed?

Primary sources of tax funds—and tax funds must pay for all welfare and expansion of education—remain business and industry. It is business and industry which provide not only corporate taxes but the payrolls from which a vast number of personal taxes are drawn.

The climate for continued prosperity must be favorable if business is to carry the heavy load demanded of it, a load so great that it threatens the ability of Canadian business to meet the competitive prices of the world market. If the price-making factors such as cost of government, cost of state welfare and cost of labor get out of hand, Canada cannot compete in the world market.

Industry and business are alive to the force of competition since they deal with it every day. It remains for the public, governments, and the leaders of labor to foresee and respect the certainty of rising costs clashing with foreign competition. This Canada cannot afford.

Fact is that social welfare ambitions, wage ambitions, taxes and industrial health are all tied together in one national economic package.

Bygone Days

10 YEARS AGO

August 1956

Hugh Shireff, a former Kelowna resident, was nominated Social Credit candidate for Skeena riding in northern British Columbia. He was active in the party here before moving to Smithers three years ago.

20 YEARS AGO

August 1946

Major-General F. F. Worthington, GOC Western Command, is commodore of the 1946 Regatta. Born in Scotland, he went to California as a boy and went to sea for 12 years after leaving school early. Served in several South and Central American revolutions, and was with Mexican forces fighting Pancho Villa in 1914.

30 YEARS AGO

August 1936

The 1st blew off the semi-rigid deal in the Okanagan when the B.C. Interior Vegetable Marketing Board withdrew control, making the semi-rigid price open. The action was caused by large numbers of northern and Kamloops growers undercutting the market. Col. E. Poole, the manager, stated.

40 YEARS AGO

August 1926

F. B. Coats of Vernon was the unanimous choice of the Liberal Convention at Penticton, as candidate for Yale riding in the federal election. Dr. K. C. MacDonald of Vernon and Reeve G. A. B. MacDonald of Penticton declined nomination. Col. Edgett, the previous candidate, also declined, surprising the delegates by stating he would run, as an Independent.

50 YEARS AGO

August 1916

All German and Austrian armies on the eastern front have been placed under the supreme command of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, according to a dispatch quoting a Berlin announcement. A similar announcement was made in Vienna.

60 YEARS AGO

August 1906

It was with pained surprise that citizens learned of the death of H. S. Scadding, who lately retired as CPR agent here. He suffered severe injury while stepping off a street car in Toronto, and died the following day. He had been the Kelowna agent for the CPR steamboat service here for eight years.

Are people really reasonable beings? The older they become, the less future they have, of course, and the more they worry about the future.

A 'Composite' Foreigner Stars In Berlin Incident

Hugh Allan, a young Kelowna man has recently returned from an extensive trip abroad. The Kelowna Daily Courier carried his account of an Israeli-Arab shooting incident in a recent edition. Here, he relates an event in tense Berlin. The "Bill Matthews" in this story is a composite being, formed among Hugh's friends. Was it black market? Refugees? Or just mercenary capitalizing on the Cold War? Read this and think about it.

By HUGH ALLAN

The time: yesterday, today, tomorrow. The location: the divided enclave that is Berlin. Who? one foreigner.

One foreigner, who could be English, French, Swedish, Canadian, or a number of nationalities including German, who for money, adventure, and even for a few out of idealism, work to bring East Germans to the West.

It is 6 o'clock in the morning, the streets of Stiglitz are chilly, the air foggy. In a small, fourth floor flat an alarm clock rings and a young man climbs out of his bed.

He picks up a phone, dials a Wilmsdorf number, and waits. There follows a short conversation in English, consisting mainly of "yes" and "no". He hangs up the phone, and returns to his room where he will dress, and shave. Another day has begun in Berlin. For 20 year old Bill Matthews it is pay day, for today he will again make a trip over to the East sector.

Three quarters of an hour later the youth buys a 40 phenny U-bahn ticket, and walks down the subway stairs of Innsbrucker Platz. Clean-shaven, neatly dressed, he is indistinguishable from the early morning crowds on their way to work. He blends in with them, and waits for the train.

Leaving the tube at Nollendorf Platz, Bill catches a No. 29 bus going to Hardenburgstr. In the Zoological Gardens district. Going up to the second floor of the double decker he sits down, and lights up a pungent Rot Hand cigarette. Exhaling a deep lungful, he thinks,

He came back to two months previous to an international student labor camp outside of Tivov, Yugoslavia, where he had worked. The pay bought only cigarettes, but they got good food, and a place to sleep. It was sort of a Communist version of a kibbutz. Now in Berlin he worked against the Communists.

Wholly indifferent to politics, religion, or for that matter any type of creed, Bill was completely amoral. If it suited him or caught his fancy he was open to anything.

In this particular case it was the money that caught his eye. For each trip made to the East he was paid 100 D.M., the equivalent of $25 - 50 D.M. in advance, the remainder when he returned. During the past 10 days he had made six trips, and managed to save a little over 500 D.M., all in American dollars. Today's trip would make it just about an even $150.

The bus stopped at the Europa Centre on Hardenburgstr, and the youth got off, walked across the street to the railway station, and went inside. The interior was crowded, people shouted, and tobacco smoke hung in wispy clouds. Looking at his watch, and then working his way through the commuters, Bill stepped down into the main men's washroom.

At the bottom, in the foyer, sat Michael Aronson, well-dressed Michael rose, and met Bill halfway, together they walked back up the stairs, and over to a coffee shop. Sitting down they ordered coffee and rolls. For five or 10 minutes they talked and ate, as hundreds of others there did. They finished, paid and left a few minutes apart from separate exits. To the casual observer nothing appeared unusual, but Bill was now 50 marks to the better, and carried an envelope that he had earlier Michael had carried.

Turning right outside the Bannhof Zoo, the young man walked up Joachimstalerstr to the Ku'damm, glancing occasionally at the colorful, well-stocked department store windows. He went down into the Kurferstendamm U-bahn station. Now began the indirect trip into the East zone. Bill thought it all childish - walk, bus, U-bahn; walk, bus, U-bahn. It wasted time and surely what he was doing couldn't warrant it.

He was not a professional in this business, but experience in petty smuggling, money changing, and countless other small fiddles told him he was no more than a courier. A common courier, something that anyone could do.

Why then was he chosen - and paid? He probably would never know.

LEFT TRAIN

One and a half hours later he got off the underground railway at Bannhof Friedrichstr., other than Checkpoint Charlie the only crossing between the two Berlins. Familiar with the subterranean geography, Bill walked to the processing centre for foreigners, bought the compulsory five East marks, filled out a currency declaration slip, and exchanged for a numerical receipt the monetary declaration, and his hard-backed passport. The first of four checks, a stony-faced Vopo hardly older than himself motioned Bill to sit in the waiting area.

There were perhaps a dozen or so people ahead of the youth, and it would take at least 45 minutes to clear them before his turn came. He sat down on a hard wooden bench, lit another cigarette, relaxed, and contented himself with reading the bright posters expounding the wonders, and achievements of Ulbricht's cosy little worker's republic.

Bill didn't know why, but the East German's photograph, which was displayed everywhere in East Berlin reminded him of Emmanuel Goldstein, the counter-revolutionary in Orwell's 1984. Perhaps it was the same goatee beard, or perhaps it was Ulbricht's facial features. He was still contemplating this when his receipt number was announced over the public address system.

He Went Through 3 More Checks

He picked up his passport, went through three more "papers please" checks, and then walked out into Friedrichstr. At the corner of Friedrichstr. and the Unter den Linden he entered the Berlin Mitropa Restaurant, one of a huge chain in the German Democratic Republic.

It was 9:30 and the dining room was partially full, he ordered scrambled eggs, bread and coffee. Though the coffee was ersatz, the rest of the breakfast was fresh, and delicious. He paid with the five marks he had bought at the checkpoint, giving the waiter a tip greater than the cost of the meal. Bill usually didn't give tips, but this was a government restaurant, and the staff was prohibited from accepting them. It always gave him a chuckle to watch the waiter look around, then pocket the gratuity, and smile appreciatively.

Leaving the Mitropa, Bill proceeded down the Unter den Linden, across Marx-Engels Platz, and finally arrived at Alexander Platz. On a corner, standing by a tram stop was Sabena.

TWO CONTACTS

Since Bill had started this business there were only two people he had any contact with. One was Michael in West Berlin, the other Sabena. She was about 17 or 18 years old, blond, and very good looking. Bill liked her, and though she was nice enough, Sabena always remained a bit aloof.

They smiled and shook hands. Germany were just about as bad as the Arabs when it came to this little custom, everybody shook hands on any occasion. Bill often wondered if at the breakfast table, before eating, German families shook hands. After exchanging pleasantries they walked across Alexander Platz, and turned down Karl Marx Allee.

Except for the Kopenick district, Bill thought the "Allee" was one of the most beautiful parts of East Berlin. Elms lined the boulevards, and on either side stood new department stores. It was probably mostly the trees, in the midst of a brick, steel and glass jungle, that he liked.

They walked along chatting about anything, and everything, a young couple on their way to work, or just strolling. Bill stopped at a tobacconist and bought, for $1.25, a package of 20 Warnow cigarettes - the cigarette of the affluent new class. Outside the shop, in the enclosure of the doorway, he offered Sabena one. Accepting it she opened her black leather

Substance Of Questions Unchanged

Though the speed of the interrogation picked up with the assistance of the interpreter, the substance didn't.

Bill stuck to his story - he was a student visiting Berlin. The questioning continued. Where had he gone in Berlin? What had he seen? What had he done? Did he have any friends or relatives living in Berlin? What had he done on such and such a date? It was obvious that they suspected him, but of exactly what, he was not certain. They hadn't mentioned Sabena, the questions were all wrong.

At 2 p.m., after three hours of uninterrupted interrogation, hungry, and more angry than afraid, Bill blurted out: "I don't think this is routine, I'm Jewish, and won't answer any more question until I see my consul!" The big lie, would it work? The sentence didn't have to be translated, at the word Jewish the officer lost his benign, authoritative attitude, turned red in the face, and visibly shook with rage, and embarrassment.

There was a second of electric silence. Then jumping to his feet the officer, screaming in his thick Saxon German yelled: "We know you are dealing in the black market - don't try to play games with me!"

SETTLED DOWN

Then, just as quickly as his outburst had come on, it stopped. He regained control of himself, sat down, lit a cigarette, stared at the desk for a moment, then picking up Bill's passport lying there, left the room. He and the interpreter were left alone. They said nothing.

A short while later the officer, now completely in control of his faculties, returned. He handed the youth his passport, opened at page three. Page three was marked for endorsements. On it, stamped in block letters was: "INVALID FOR TRAVEL OR TRANSIT IN OR THROUGH THE D.D.R."

"You may go! Do not return to our country!", the interrogation officer, his back turned, said quietly. Bill picked up his possessions on the desk and left.

That evening Bill Matthews, after collecting his remaining 50 marks, bought a ticket on the 10 p.m. flight from Tegel Airport to Hannover. With his passport restricted, and most certainly photographed, the money-making opportunities would be greatly diminished!

Berlin would now be only another city, a memory amongst memories. He would never return.

Do Things You Fear Advise Psychologists

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

I have suffered from nervousness and stage fright for many years, and had to give up a promising singing career because I shook so, and it is a handicap in my present lecture work.

I have consulted doctors and psychiatrists and the only thing I was told was to "do the thing I feared to do, and the fear would leave me."

What is the strongest sedative or tranquilizer that you think might help? I've tried some but they only seem to make me more nervous.—DISCOURAGED

There are several tricks that might help you (and have helped others) but most of them have to be in your own mind.

Mild sedative or tranquilizers can help, provided you do not expect too much of them. They can't do the whole thing, I don't recommend strong ones, because they would be self-defeating. You don't want to be in a semistupor. What you want is alert self-confidence.

Remember that even seasoned performers after years on the stage still admit twinges of tension before they go on stage.

Big Assault Set Upon Camelot

YEOVIL England (Reuters) British archeologists are planning their biggest assault on King Arthur's Camelot.

A crop of relics uncovered at Cadbury Castle near this quiet village in southwestern England were identified Thursday as belonging to the era of the Knights of the Round Table and have increased speculation that Cadbury's site is also that of Camelot.

The archeologists now are planning a full-scale excavation for early next year to search for confirmation of the legend of Britain's earliest national hero.

A 40-man team of students dug up a tiny fraction of the suspected site this summer and uncovered fifth-century bronze pottery and metalwork.

The Camelot Research Committee, headed by British archeologist Sir Mortimer Wheeler, concluded that the initial find has established firmly that the site was occupied at the time that King Arthur is believed to have lived.

The legendary king—personified in poetry and legend as the gallant, gracious ruler of a sunlit England of fair ladies and knights in shining armor—is believed by historians to have been more likely a tough west country chieftain. He may have been half Roman, a descendant from soldiers stationed in Britain. Legend says he led Britons in 12 great battles against Saxon invaders before being killed in action in 537.

BIBLE BRIEF

"If ye hearken to these judgments, and keep and do them... He will bless thee and love thee... thou shalt be blessed above all people." — Deuteronomy 7:12-14.

So much depends on whether we ignore or embrace the word of God. "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

CANADA'S STORY

Sir Humphrey Gilbert Claimed Newfoundland

By BOB BOWMAN

John Cabot gets the credit for discovering Newfoundland in 1497, although it is likely that Norsemen landed there long before. When Cabot sighted land he is said to have shouted Bona Vista which is how Cape Bonavista got its name. When he got back to England King Henry VII gave him 10 pounds reward for his discovery. The document may be seen in the British Museum and reads "To hym that found the New Isle £10."

Sir Humphrey Gilbert made England's claim to Newfoundland official on Aug. 3, 1583 when he sailed into St. John's Harbor. The fishing off the coast was attracting ships from France, Spain, and Portugal, and it was decided to claim the area for Queen Elizabeth before it was too late.

Sir Humphrey Gilbert was a half-brother of Sir Francis Drake. When he was offered the job of governor of Newfoundland he sold half his estates, and fitted out five ships with 250 men, including carpenters, blacksmiths, masons and musicians. One of the ships deserted for the more profitable trade of piracy, but the others arrived at St. John's. The people on shore were so glad to see them they sent out gifts of salmon, trout, cod, lobsters, wines, biscuits and marmalade.

All the inhabitants attended the ceremony of claiming Newfoundland for England. Sir Humphrey wore leather boots, velvet cloak with lace collar and a breastplate of armor. He proclaimed that the Church of England would be the official church of Newfoundland. Any man who spoke disrespectfully of Queen Elizabeth would lose his goods and his ears! Sir Humphrey was drowned about a month later during a voyage to England. His ships got into a storm and he transferred from the 50 ton Golden Hind to the 10-ton Squirrel. He was last seen on the lurching deck of the Squirrel reading the Bible, and was heard to shout "Cheer up, boys, we're as near to heaven by sea as on land!" The Squirrel went down with all hands but the Golden Hind got back to England safely.

OTHER EVENTS ON AUGUST 3:

1527 John Rut from Plymouth, England arrived at Newfoundland, and went on to New England.

1610 Henry Hudson discovered Hudson Bay.

1642 Hurons attacked Hurons on Richelieu River and took 600 captives prisoner. He was the first white man to see Lake George, N.Y.

1751 First printing press in Canada set up at Halifax by Bartholemew Green.

1847 Electric telegraph service opened between Montreal and Toronto.

1860 Joseph Howe elected premier of Nova Scotia.

1878 Canada refused to accept arbitration award for north-west boundary of Ontario.

1914 Paul and Pacific Railway given running lights to Winnipeg.

1914 Regulations issued for money and banks. Bank notes were issued instead of Dominion notes.

1961 T. C. Douglas former premier of Saskatchewan, elected president of the New Democratic Party.

Quiet Wedding Takes Place At Home Of Bride's Parents

A quiet wedding took place on July 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Smirl on Vineland St., when their youngest daughter, Janet Lorraine, and Larry David Hilborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hilborn of Kelowna, exchanged marriage vows at a double-ring ceremony before Rev. R. S. Leitch.

The bride was radiant in a short white satin gown with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her chapel length veil was held in place by a crown of flowers and pearls and her bouquet was of yellow roses.

Miss Nadine Smirl, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid Miss Lorraine Hilborn, sister of the groom, were charming in similar dresses of yellow linen styled with Empire waists and white lace bodices. Matching tiaras and white accessories completed their costumes and they carried bouquets of yellow tipped white carnations.

Acting as best men were Ian Anderson and Grant Howse.

At the reception, held on the lawn and catered by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, the mother of the bride received wearing a sheath dress of pink linen with a three-quarter length jacket of pink lace with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Assisting her in receiving the guests was the groom's mother who chose a blue lace two-piece suit complemented with blue and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The toast to the bride was given by the best man Ian Anderson and was ably responded to by the groom.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom nestled in tulle dotted with carnations on the bride's table and was flanked by bouquets of carnations.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY DAVID HILBORN

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Miss Vicki Smirl and her brothers from Willing, Vancouver Island.

To travel on her honeymoon the bride chose a three-piece suit of aqua crepe covered with beige lace and accented with beige accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilborn will make their home in Kelowna.

ANN LANDERS

A Loyal Boss Does Not Let His Secretary Down

Dear Ann Landers: I am an average looking woman in my 30's. I wear glasses and store-bought uppers. But I'm a whole of a good secretary—presently unemployed.

Yesterday the boss' wife telephoned me at the office and accused me of making a play for her husband. I went right to my boss, told him about the phone call, packed my pencils, and left that very hour. The boss was flooded, I might add.

I have never before walked off a job. It's always a mess when someone leaves without notice and I felt terrible about doing it but I just didn't feel that I could stay another day.

Did I do the right thing? My husband says I did. I'm not sure. Perhaps I should have written the wife off as a nut, (which she most assuredly is) and hung on to my job. Please comment.—FORMER SEC

Dear Former: You did the right thing. If your boss had urged you to stay, you should have done so, but since he did not, you were wise to leave.

A whole of a good secretary should have no trouble finding another job—and a more loyal boss. He let you down miserably.

Dear Ann Landers: I plan to be married in October. This evening my aunts asked me if I had decided on the members haven't asked her yet but of course Bess will be my maid of honor. We've been best friends since childhood.

There was a chorus of "No, you can't have her for obvious reasons!" Bess is a polio cripple. She wears a brace on her legs and walks with a cane. One of my aunts said, "It will take her three times as long to get down the aisle and she won't be able to keep time to the music."

I was boiling inside at first and determined to have Bess as my maid of honor even if I had to wheel her down the aisle myself. Now I'm undecided. I discussed this with friends this morning and they say my aunts are right. What do you say?—FELICIA

Dear Felicia: Quit shopping

Tired Of Living In Glass House

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Away from the "glass house" she wanted to leave in Dallas, the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald was in her new house here today.

Tuesday was moving day for the Kenneth Jess Porters and they were quick to tell Dallas newspaper men that they were happy to leave the city where Warren commission says, Mrs. Porter's former husband shot and killed President John F. Kennedy and policeman J. D. Tippitt.

"How would you like living in a glass house for all the world to see?" Marine Oswald Porter asked as she left Dallas.

A few hours later, she was in Greenville, population 21,000 and about 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

Marine, her three children—two by Oswald and an infant born July 3—and a woman friend drove up to the modest frame and brick home.

She started walking toward the house. A photographer raised his camera.

"Oh, no!" said Mrs. Porter. She ran into the house, leaving her children with her friend.

A few minutes later she sent word to reporters that she had "nothing to say."

Miscellaneous Shower Held For Glenmore Bride-Elect

Miss Susan Snowsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsell of Glenmore, whose marriage to Gordon Wolfe of Rutland took place on Saturday was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower recently.

Co-hostesses of the shower, which was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hume a former Glenmore resident, were Mrs.

Hume, Mrs. Sam Pearson, Mrs. J. R. Mowbray and Mrs. Thomas Naito.

The lovely miscellaneous gifts from the 40 friends assembled were presented to the bride-elect in a miniature tractor-drawn house with reference to the groom's business of house moving.

AROUND TOWN

Mrs. William Fraser and her daughter Miss Kim Fraser left this morning by plane for their home in Bethesda, Maryland, following a two months' visit to Mrs. Fraser's brother and sister-in-law Dr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson. Also visiting Dr. and Mrs. Anderson until after Regatta is their daughter Mrs. Wally Lightbody from Vancouver with her four children.

Miss Dana Disney has returned to Vancouver after spending the past few days in Kelowna visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Disney.

Former Kelownian Mrs. Ella Cameron Thompson and her daughter Tony from Vancouver are enjoying a two weeks' holiday at Casa Loma while visiting old friends in the Okanagan.

Among the many special guests at the Social Credit Strawberry Tea on Monday afternoon were the Lady-of-the-Lake Marcia Fernow and her two ladies in waiting, Princess Susan Aynley and Princess Wendy Dubbin, who looked very charming in their royal robes. Also attending the tea were the five exchange students from Quebec who were received and introduced by Mrs. E. R. Dodd.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McInnes, Bath St., for the next ten days are Mrs. McInnes's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Porphet from Winnipeg, accompanied by their daughter Nancy.

Spending the next two weeks in Kelowna visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald White, Lakeshore Road, are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grieve and their daughter Lori from Winnipeg. Mrs. Grieve is Mrs. White's sister.

Here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker for a month are Mr. Walker's brother and his

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rantala have been Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Matson from Battle-ground, Wash.

Members of the Central Okanagan Naturalists' Club and their friends are invited to meet on the parking lot at Shops Capri, Sunday, ready to leave for a trip to the Big White ski area. Alpine flowers are at their best now in the higher regions and also very near the chalet reports Douglas Mervyn, and it is recommended that the members come equipped with a snack, coffee and a mosquito repellent.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schluter, Ladner Road, have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Morris and their son Craig from Kimberley.

Hospital Service Volunteers Donate Priceless Gift Of Time

Of special interest to the women of the Kelowna district is the volunteer work being carried on at the Kelowna General Hospital.

Volunteers commenced working at the hospital in February, 1964, and the service has been continued on a regular basis since that time. A volunteer delivers the hospital mail to all patients every week-day morning, each afternoon assistance is given by a volunteer in the admitting department of the hospital, and time is also given each week to the Medical Library.

During the school year teen-aged volunteers in their "candy-stripe" uniforms are on duty each day after school on the medical and surgical ward, and are a bright and cheerful asset to the hospital staff and patients, and adult volunteers in gay cherry-red smocks are a source of help and inspiration to the hospital staff, administration, and especially to patients.

These Volunteer Services are sponsored by the Kelowna Junior Hospital Auxiliary, but one need not be an Auxiliary member in order to be a volunteer. Any ladies who are interested in volunteer work and wish more information are asked to phone your Director of Volunteer Services, Mrs. L. Leathley at 762-2893, or to write to her care of the Kelowna General Hospital.

"The great value of a volunteer is her gift of time."

Bride And Groom To Make Their Home In England

A quiet but colorful wedding of interest to the Okanagan took place on Tuesday, July 26, at the Church of St. John the Divine in Burnaby, when Ellen Glead, daughter of Mrs. James Glead of Okanagan Centre, became the bride of Alfred John Baldwin of Newport, England, with Rev. J. W. Bishop officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister Doris as maid-of-honor, and the best man was the bridegroom's cousin D. J. Kear of Surrey, and following the ceremony relatives and friends attended a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Flick in Burnaby.

During the wedding lunch Rev. Bishop proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded ably and many telegrams of congratulations and good wishes from England and the Okanagan were read by the host, Mr. Flick.

The bridal couple left that evening for a honeymoon in California and will later make their home in England.

Among the many out of town guests were the mother of the bride, Mrs. James Glead from Okanagan Centre; Mrs. L. Micklebrogh, sister of the groom, from England; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kear and family from Surrey; Mr. and Mrs. C. Phillips and son from Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and son from Vancouver; Mrs. Harry Glead from West Vancouver, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Rowell of Burnaby; Mrs. M. Smith of Victoria; and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Burnaby.

Westbank Yacht Club Held First Regatta On Weekend

WESTBANK—Interest shown in Westbank Yacht Club's first Regatta augurs well for the hope of making this an annual event. Competitors and spectators alike enjoyed the affair, from Saturday's first sailing-race to Sunday afternoon's final eliminations.

Okanagan Lake Bridge was lined with spectators for the start of the long-distance sailing race Saturday afternoon, when, with colorful spinnakers set, the 20 boats set out for Gellatly Bay in ideal weather.

So perfect was it that Ivor Stubson, of Vancouver, placed first in one hour and ten minutes. Second, on corrected time, was 15-year-old Kathy Earle, of Kelowna.

Power-boat races came next, with Harold Naka taking first place; Jerry Scott, second; and Henry Paynter, Jr., third. These were Westbank entries, while Dave Douillard, of Kelowna, came in fourth.

Tyler Smith, of Vancouver, won the kayak race; besides which there were apple-box, paddle-board and swimming races for the youngsters, while the log-rolling was a treat-to-watch! In fact, as someone present remarked, there was all the fun of the fair! for young and not so young.

Sail-boat owners treated boys and girls to a sail, and later in the evening dancing was enjoyed on board the "Pendozi."

SUNDAY'S EVENTS Sunday started out with the pancake breakfast on board, followed by Kelowna Yacht Club's sailing race, and in the afternoon Kathy Earle won the western Canada elimination sailing race.

Afternoon tea, coffee and/or soft drinks were served aboard "Pendozi" Sunday, as they will be each Sunday afternoon for the rest of the summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Young, of Prince Rupert, left Thursday after visiting relatives in Westbank and Kelowna districts, and while here stayed at Shady Rest. Mrs. Young is a sister of Mrs. W. B. Gore and L. T. Hannam, and Westbank is her girlhood home.

Mrs. W. H. Hewlett travelled to Penticton last Friday to spend several days there with her sister, Miss Hettie Parkin.

A. E. Hewlett returned home Sunday following a week spent at 100 Mile House, where he was the guest of Glen Johnson.

By SUZANNE ZWARUN

A rustic log cabin planted on a large grassy plateau. A sweep of hills in the background; the busy highway in front. Inside is a young man surrounded by the past—by antiques and handicrafts of the Indian people.

Noll Derriksan—artist and antique collector—is embarking on a new project. Nine days ago he opened an antique shop on Highway 97, near Westbank.

In the cool, quiet pine-log cabin built by his great-great-grandfather, Dave McDougall, Mr. Derriksan has collected and arranged antiques "from everywhere" and Indian handicrafts from a source he intends to keep secret.

The people making the handicrafts for his shop are making them for him exclusively, Mr. Derriksan explained.

"They cannot make enough to keep me supplied, so I'm not about to tell anyone else where I'm getting them," he says.

The handicrafts include the softest deerhide gloves imaginable, specially made from a mould of the buyer's hand, and moccasins—guaranteed to last forever with care.

PAPPOUSES TOO

Brooches, miniature moccasins, tiny papouses are also available. Another item is deerhides, tanned by a procedure which includes water soaking, breaking the grain on a rack, soaking again in a solution which includes a deer brain mixture, stretching and drying.

Antiques and handicrafts are included in the cabin's decor and these aren't for sale. Snowshoes and a tray of braided cedar roots hang on the walls. A brass coal oil lamp, an angel double burner, helps to light the place.

Unlike most crowded, dusty antique stores, in Mr. Derriksan's shop the relics are carefully polished and arranged.

In fact, a number of people have mistaken his place for a museum and offered to pay admission.

Lots Of Bottles Line The Walls

Bottles, more than 200 of them, line the walls and Mr. Derriksan has more coming. Chinese medicine bottles, poison bottles, hand blown and intricate or squat and durable—the shop has them. A horizontal baby's bottle, the neck at right angles to the rest of the bottle, is quite old, Mr. Derriksan said. The unusual shape was supposed to prevent the baby from swallowing air.

Lamps—of brass and tin, silver and glass—hang everywhere. An interest in antique lamps led Mr. Derriksan to open his shop. He began collecting them a year ago. He collected about 40 before he waded out the collection, keeping only his favorites.

Wind-up phonographs, a huge picture said by old timers to have hung in the S.S. Scamious, guns—an 1871 muzzle loader—a wooden butter churn, a foot-long umbrella handle, a horse-hair-stuffed chair, an 18-pound tailor's iron—the shop is crowded with mementoes of the past.

One item not for sale is the elderly cash register. Left over from the days when $1 was a substantial purchase, the machine only registers up to that amount.

An artist in his spare time, Mr. Derriksan likes to do oil landscapes but he hasn't had much spare time since he started work on the antique shop two months ago. Maybe, if he keeps the shop open during the winter, he'll have time to get back to painting.

In the meantime, he's learning the antique business. After nine days he has come to at least one conclusion:

"People will collect anything."

Many Pay Final Homage To Rutland's Peter Jaud

By ART GRAY

RUTLAND — Funeral service for the late Peter Jaud, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jaud of Bell Rd., Rutland, who met death in a motor car accident on July 23, was held at the Rutland United Church on Thursday, July 28, at 10 a.m., Rev. Arthur H. Mundy officiating.

One of the most largely-attended funerals ever held in the local church bespoke the sympathy aroused by the tragic circumstances of his death, and the esteem in which the family is held in the community.

Many persons were unable to obtain admission to the main body of the church, and stood in halls, passageways and filled the choir seats for the service. Pallbearers at the funeral were all youths of about the same age as the deceased. They were Gary Graf, Dale Forsythe, Harold Schneider, Russell Smithank, Gordon Ivans and Robert Mettlewsky, several being members of the local Connie Mack baseball team, of which Peter had been a member. Ushers were Frank Buckland and Richard Preston.

LONG JOURNEY

Rev. Mundy, in his service, addressed himself particularly to the young people present. The hymns were the ancient 23rd Psalm, and the modern "How Great Thou Art." Interment was in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Many members of the family, and close friends, attended the funeral, some coming from a considerable distance to be present. Among these were an older brother Neil, who drove here from Montreal; Dr. Ole Laxdal of Regina; Mrs. John Birt of Yorkton, Sask.; Mrs. Len Eaton of Moline, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jaud and daughter Gwen of North Surrey; Mrs. Rachel Burtwick and daughter Ardithe, of New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jaud, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cousins, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hanks of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. John Graf and family from Prince George.

Besides his parents, Peter is survived by three brothers, Neil, Jerry and Steven, and a sister Janice, all but Neil being at home. His paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jaud, and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Laxdal, maternal grandparents, reside in Kelowna.

FOUND THEIR MAN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It took police 20 years, but they finally arrested Garfield Parker, 74, for the 1946 slaying of a neighbor, John Smith. Said Parker: "I knew who it was. I've been waiting for the knock for 20 years."

Salmon Arm Woman Sells Out After Battle With B.C. Hydro

Mrs. Joan Billing, of Salmon Arm, who hired men with a large dog to keep work crews and bulldozers out of her back yard last week, poured coffee or a land agent Monday as crews began excavating on her property.

Mrs. Billing and three male assistants equipped with walkie-talkies stopped B.C. Hydro and Power Authority workmen from entering her property near here Friday to excavate for a new sub-station.

The authority had already launched expropriation proceedings against the property.

Mrs. Billing and a Hydro representative discussed problems over the weekend and the woman agreed to sell her home and 8.5 acres to Hydro.

Mr. Justice O. S. Aitkins refused Hydro lawyers an ex parte injunction in Vancouver Friday which would have required the woman to stand aside and let the crews begin work.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Astrological influences for this day favor the staunch of heart. Energies and ambitions will be keyed to the high pitch required for gratifying accomplishment and, in job matters, especially, the sidereal aspects will be more than generous.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates possible changes in career matters during the next few months—especially if you are engaged in any form of scientific or technological work. This is a year when Leoties, who are so often experts along such lines, can profit by their knowledge and experience. All, however, should make good progress occupationally speaking, during the coming year, with outstanding periods for advancement and recognition indicated during the last two weeks of this month, the last week in September, the last two weeks in October—exceptionally fine if you have earned the favor of superiors by handling additional responsibilities ably—also, during the latter part of December, next February and May.

Where finances are concerned, stars do not promise much in the way of gain during the balance of 1966, but the next few months are fine for launching long-range plans; also, for discovering new means of increasing earnings. Results of efforts to up your monetary status in this way should bring highly satisfactory results during the first three months of 1967, followed by another excellent three-month cycle beginning on June 1.

If careful to avoid tension and friction in late October and late December, you should have smooth domestic sailing for most of the year ahead, and romantic interests should be heart-warming during the latter half of December, next February, May and June. Best periods for travel: The latter half of October, late December, next January, April and June; for stimulating social activities. The latter half of this month, late September, all of October, December, next January, February, April and June—the latter month an exceptionally generous one on all counts.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a dynamic personality, a gift for leadership and unusual dramatic talent.

IRELAND JOINED LATE

Ireland was not admitted to the United Nations until 1955.

Franco Takes A Holiday

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco is off for his annual summer stay in northern Spain and pressures for fast action on his plans for an eventual successor appear to have eased.

Spain expects this fall its second national referendum since the Franco regime took over in 1939. Best bets are that it will concern not the question of a successor but rather a division of powers to lighten Franco's work load.

"There appears no need to rush into the question of his successor," said one top official. "We have other and more pressing matters to consider at this time."

In a 1947 referendum Spain voted for a restoration of the monarchy but gave Franco a life tenure to decide when and how this would be accomplished. He has not yet spelled out his plans.

LONG FORECAST
A survey of Spanish official opinion indicates the coming referendum will be on a proposal to separate the posts of chief of state and chief of government — Franco now holds both—and the proposal will detail the duties and powers of each. Such a move has long been forecast, more insistently as Franco's age advanced. He is 73 and reported in excellent health.

During his two-months stay in the summer capitals of La Coruna and San Sebastian, Franco may announce a date for the referendum and explain the choices it offers.

This does not mean the question of a successor to Franco has been shelved for a long time, official sources say.

The idea of a new king for Spain blows hot and cold from month to month. Despite the national vote in 1947 to restore the monarchy, there appears to be little deep enthusiasm for the return of a king outside strictly monarchist circles.

What happens if Franco fails to name his successor before death or illness removes him from leadership.

Some sources say the lack of a firm choice of a successor by Franco could make for difficulties, but a government official observes:

"There is no doubt that in such a situation the Spanish army, traditional guarantor of order in Spain, would maintain stability. The machinery already exists for succession, and the army would insist that succession follow."

DUBLIN (Reuters)—The Irish Republic's bank employees decided Friday to end their three-month strike over a pay dispute. The 5,400 employees will go back Wednesday following pay increases.

Elected Government Seen In Saigon By November '67

SAIGON (CP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today promised South Viet Nam an elected government by November, 1967, and said he would devote himself exclusively to his job as air force commander after that.

The 35-year-old premier made his pledge in a statement at the start of a campaign to spur interest in elections for delegates to a constitutional assembly Sept. 11. The assembly will be given six months to write a constitution under which South Viet Nam can change over from military to civilian rule.

Ky is the central figure in the military junta which came to power 14 months ago.

Meanwhile, the Buddhist Unified Church again accused Ky and Chief of State Lt.-Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu of oppressing and deceiving the people in order to cling to power.

In a lengthy letter to the two leaders, the militant Buddhist leadership denounced the planned constituent assembly as "a disguised elected body to prolong the period when the government will have to return the sovereignty of the nation to the representatives of the people."

LOST TWO PLANES

On the military front, the U.S. command announced the loss of two air force F-104 Starfighters during heavy raids on North Viet Nam Monday. Both pilots are missing.

One Starfighter was hit 40 miles north of Hanoi, the other 65 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

U.S. pilots sighted 14 surface-to-air missiles, the spokesman said, but did not say whether the Starfighters were knocked down by the Soviet-built rockets or conventional ground fire.

The U.S. has lost 318 aircraft over North Viet Nam.

U.S. military headquarters reported four sharp actions in the rugged central plateau region 10 miles east of the Cambodian border and 235 miles north of Saigon.

Three of the clashes broke off after short fire fights but at last report the fourth was continuing toward nightfall. All of the actions involved company-size U.S. units. The size of the enemy forces was not known.

PAIR SENTENCED
VANCOUVER (CP) — Gerald Ahlgren, 19, charged with the June 11 theft of 27 cases of liquor from a box-car, was sentenced Friday to one month in jail and given a $300 fine. Robert Grant, 18, also charged, was given a two-year suspended sentence and ordered to post a $500 bond to keep the peace.

ECM Submits Farm Offers

GENEVA (Reuters)—The European Common Market has submitted its agricultural offers for the Kennedy round tariff-cutting negotiations here, a Common Market official said today.

The bargaining proposals will allow negotiators from about 50 countries to begin intensive discussions here in September after a delay of more than a year.

The Common Market offers were presented Monday to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, which is in charge of the Kennedy-round talks.

No Kennedy-round meetings will be scheduled until after the usual one-month summer recess which started last week-end.

Mt. Kobau Road Officially Open

Mines and technical surveys minister Jean-Luc Pepin Thursday officially opened the 12-mile Kobau Road leading to the site of a proposed $10,000,000 observatory. The site is 40 miles south of Penticton.

Also taking part in the ceremony, on the site of what eventually could be a $50,000,000 centre, were scientists, and provincial and civic officials.

The observatory will house a telescope with a lens weighing between 18 and 20 tons. Completion of the first phase of the observatory project has been set for 1972.

MACHINES RULE FARM
Only three man-hours an acre are needed on a Canadian wheat farm today, compared with 50 man-hours 100 years ago.

Israel Plans Austerity - British Style

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — The Israeli government is putting the final touches to economic austerity measures which observers said appear to be based on Britain's economic program.

The Israeli plan envisages a wage freeze as well as the freezing of prices and profits for a definite period, Israeli newspapers say.

Finance Minister Pinhas Sapir has repeatedly said in recent weeks that Israel must slice its foreign-trade deficit. His program calls for additional incentives for export industries.

Sapir recently warned industrial firms they would have to close down unless they became competitive in world markets.

Israel's new economic measures have already rocked the coalition government in which some of the partners, such as the left-wing Mapam, are sharply opposed to the new plan, especially a wage freeze.

In the last few weeks previous conditions of a labor shortage in Israel have given way to the first signs of unemployment.

Under pressure from Sapir, the Histadrut (the general trade union movement) last month agreed to waive a cost-of-living increase which was due in July.

WORLD NEWS

AUTOPSY ASKED FOR

Whitman Knew He Was Disturbed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Charles J. Whitman "knew he was mentally distressed" and requested an autopsy to determine why, Police Chief Robert A. Miles said Tuesday.

Miles said he based this conclusion on three notes left by the dead former marine, who killed his wife and his mother, may never be made public.

The Austin police chief discussed the notes with reporters after refusing to disclose their wording. Miles said lawyers advised this course and the notes seemed to be completely be-

Whitman left one note beside the body of his wife at their home, another in the apartment of his mother and a third on the mother's door to advise callers she was sleeping late.

"Considering the situation," Miles said, "he was quite rational in his notes. . . . He seemed to be completely bewildered by the things that were happening to him. . . .

"He said he had decided to kill his wife and mother but didn't know why he intended to do it—whether it was compassion or love or wanting to spare them embarrassment. . . . He said if there was a hereafter, they are there, and if not, they are out of their pain and misery. . . .

"He had decided the world was not worth living in . . . (but) there was nothing to indicate he would go to the tower and do what he did. . . .

"He asked that an autopsy be performed to try to find what it was that was making him do these things. . . . He had had severe headaches. . . .

Miles had said earlier that one note stated that Whitman "hated his father with a mortal passion." He also had told reporters Whitman consulted a doctor but "decided to fight it out alone."

LOCKSMITH COURSE NOT ON SYLLABUS

GLASGOW (AP)—Scottish prisons encourage convicts to take special educational courses.

But the governor of a prison here said Monday he turned down one request for a course in lock-making.

"We have to draw the line on some occasions," he said. "This was one of them."

Moon Route Opens Wider

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"Geminis has done much more to open the way to the moon than we could have hoped for five years ago."

Thus, Dr. Robert S. Sernan, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, summed up contributions of the two-man Gemini project, now heading for a mid completion with two more flights this year. Gemini II, as a rendezvous and space walk flight, will be next off the launching pad Sept. 9, to be followed by Gemini 12 seven or eight weeks later.
